PERGAMON

History of European Ideas 25 (1999) III–IV

History of European Ideas

www.elsevier.com/locate/histeuroideas

LIST OF CONTENTS

Numbers 1–2

Papers of a Symposium on The History of Political and Social Concepts: A Critical Introduction by Melvin Richter

Joan C. Tronto	1	Editorial
Jerry Z. Muller	3	Begriffsgeschichte: origins and prospects
James Schmidt	9	How historical is Begriffsgeschichte?
David Armitage	15	Answering the call: the history of political and social concepts in English
Daniel Gordon	23	Modernity and its discontents: some critical thoughts on conceptual history
Melvin Richter	31	Reply to comments
Regular Papers
William E. Duvall	39	Camus reading Nietzsche: rebellion, memory and art
Marisa Linton	55	The unvirtuous king? Clerical rhetoric on the French monarchy, 1760–1774
G.I. Molivas	75	A right, utility and the definition of liberty as a negative idea: Richard Hey and the Benthamite conception of liberty
	93	Book reviews

Number 3

Richard Bourke	99	Sovereignty, opinion and revolution in Edmund Burke

David T. Murphy 121 "A sum of the most wonderful things": Raum, geopolitics and the German tradition of environmental determinism, 1900–1933

Donald Desserud 135 Commerce and political participation in Montesquieu's letter to Domville

H.S. Jones 153 'The true Baconian and Newtonian method': Tocqueville's place in the formation of Mill's System of Logic

Number 4

Michael Chayut 163 Tragedy and Science

David Leopold 179 The Hegelian antisemitism of Bruno Bauer

Brian Young 207 The Enlightenments of J.G.A. Pocock (Review Article)

Number 5

Gunnar Beck 217 Autonomy, History and Political Freedom in Kant's Political Philosophy

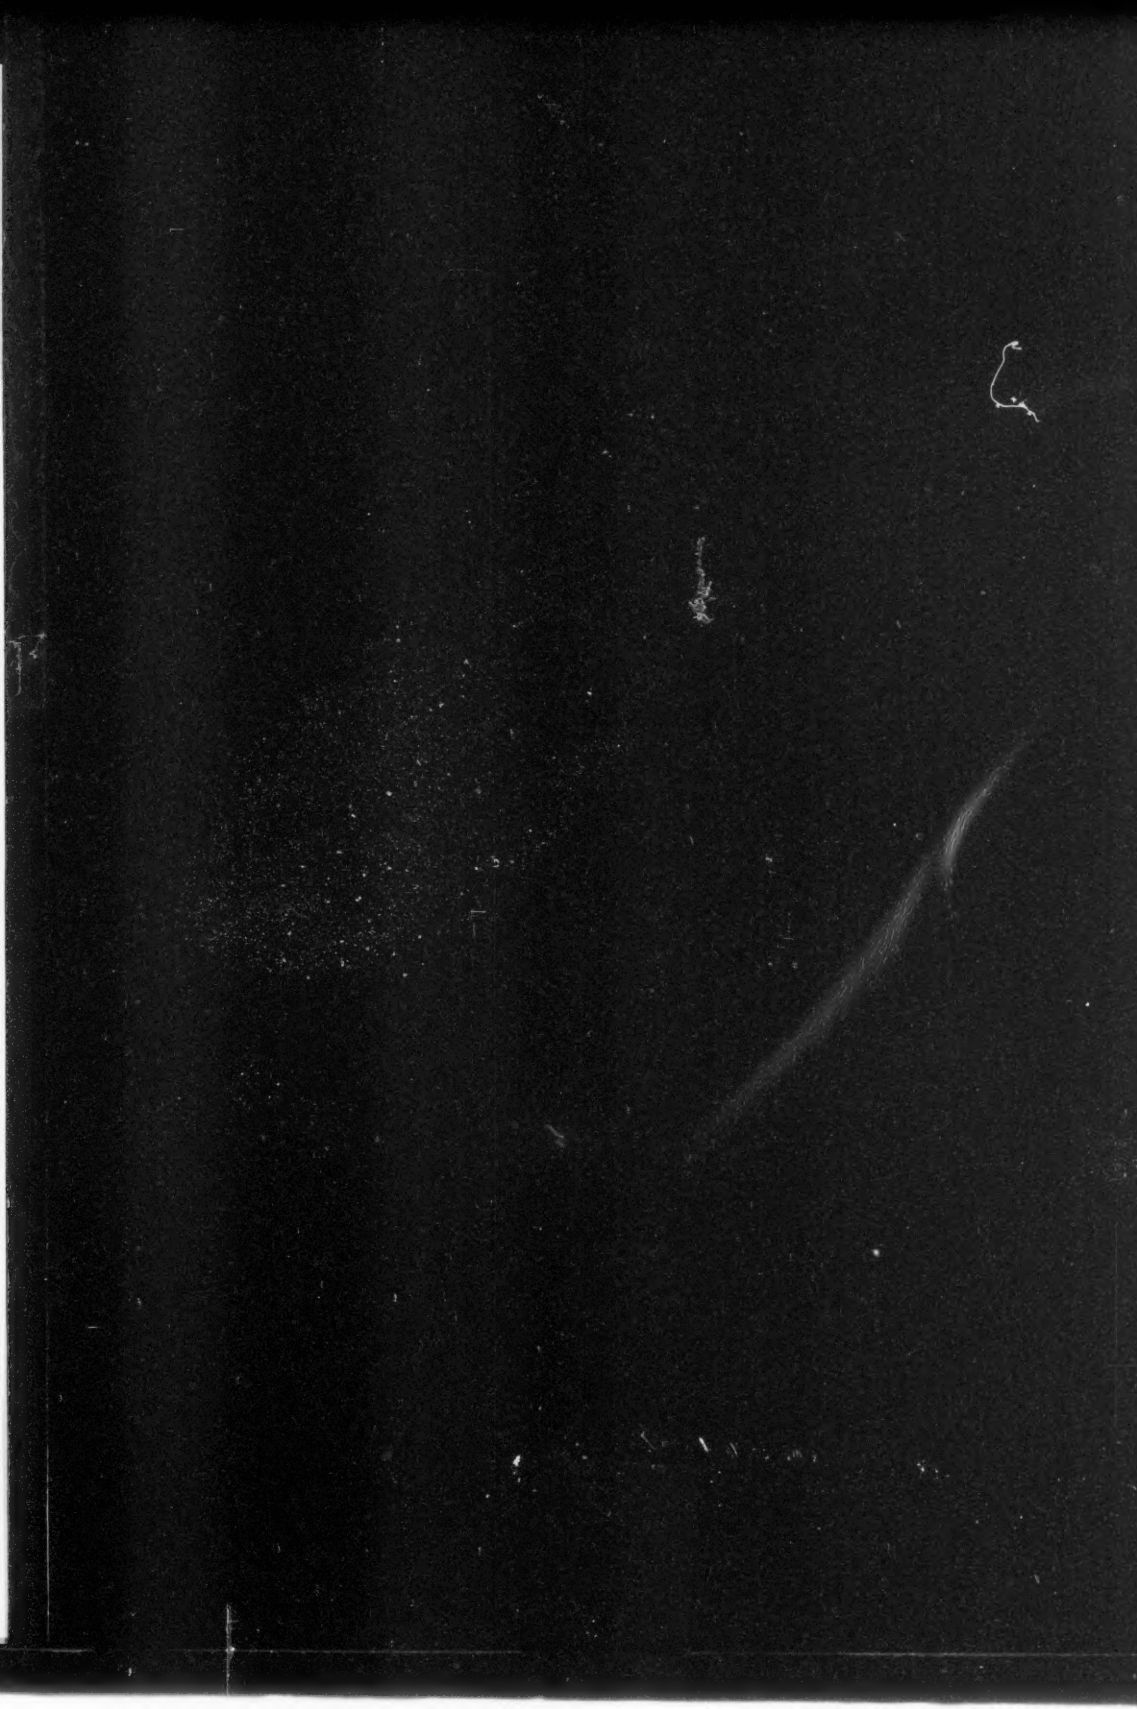
Gillis J. Harp 243 Determinism or democracy? The Marxisms of Eduard Bernstein and Sidney Hook

David Allan 251 "In the Bosome of a Shaddowie Grove": Sir George Mackenzie and the Consolations of Retirement

Number 6

S.J. Wulf 275 Ambivalent romanticism: art and aesthetic insight in philosophy and politics

Peter Hallberg 291 The nature of collective individuals: J.G. Herder's concept of community

Joanne Miyang Cho 305 The German debate over civilization: Troeltsch's Europeanism and Jaspers's cosmopolitanism


Thomas Rohkramer 321 Cultural criticism in Germany 1880–1933, a typology